Atrium[®] Express

FAQs about the Express hosted version of Atrium

What is the benefit of Atrium Express?

Atrium Express is environmentally controlled and maintained by Book Systems. You are given direct access to your Atrium system via the Internet. All server maintenance, backups, and upgrades are performed by Book Systems so your local IT staff can focus on other IT related tasks.

How do you integrate and connect Atrium Express to our Web site?

Atrium Express is a Web-based application that runs independent from your organization's internal and/or external Web site. Custom links can be created to link Atrium's OPAC to your library's Web site. You can also create a link on your organization's Web site to direct users to Atrium's OPAC. The two sites will remain separate.

What are the major factors a library should consider when deciding whether to purchase Atrium Express?

Since Atrium Express does not run on a server local to your network, access to your system will be completely dependent upon your connectivity to the Internet. A fast, reliable internet connection is required. If your Internet connection is slow or frequently goes down, we highly recommend purchasing our self-hosted version of Atrium.

How often do you upgrade your software?

Atrium Express is updated frequently during the year to insure that you will always have access to the most up-to-date product features and enhancements.

How do you communicate when changes are made to our Atrium Express site?

All maintenance is performed after hours except in critical situations. A Book Systems' Technical Support representative will contact you prior to making changes or updates to your Atrium Express site. A complete list of enhancements and new features added are provided upon log on to Atrium.

Many companies are hesitant to use a hosting service because it puts their data in the hands of a third party. How are you addressing this concern?

Book Systems is committed to keeping all customer data safe and secure. Login access to your Atrium Express site is only provided to you and Book Systems' Technical Support department for troubleshooting purposes only. We do not make use of or give out your confidential data to anyone for any reason.

Is Atrium Express protected by a firewall?

Yes, every Atrium Express server is protected and we keep the core operating system updated with current security patches.

How often do you perform backups of our data and what is being done to ensure that our Atrium Express site stays up and running?

Full backups of your data are performed daily. Book Systems keeps backups for the last 7 days, a monthly snapshot, and a yearly snapshot that is done in July. You can also perform a backup at any time and store the backup locally. In case of power or server failure, your Atrium Express is protected by natural gas generators and redundant server technology.

Can the library continue to function during a local network outage?

Yes, you can still check items in/out while your Internet is down by using the Atrium Offline Circulation Tool. Once Internet connectivity is restored, the transactions captured by the Offline Circulation Tool are easily synchronized back to Atrium.

Do you offer special pricing for users of Concourse or self-hosted versions of Atrium to switch to Atrium Express?

Yes. Anyone with a current Customer Support Agreement (CSA) for either product can purchase Atrium Express at a discounted price. Please contact your Book Systems' sales representative for additional details.
